ERIEZ Electromagnetic Screeners B and C models are well suited for the material separation. These ERIEZ screeners are available in a variety of sizes designed to meet customers' specific application requirements.

ERIEZ Patented High Deflection Electromagnetic Screeners have the advantages of an electromagnetic design with the added benefit of high amplitude. Operating at a 60 Hz vibration rate and approximately 1875 amplitude, HZ models offer the nearly maintenance-free operation of ERIEZ electromagnetic design with high amplitude, similar to a mechanical sifter. The ERIEZ magnetic design makes them suitable for a wide range of applications.
